

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A new abrasive blade tip treatment is disclosed with the potential to provide improved blade tip clearance control in the turbine section of modern industrial gas
5 turbines (IGT's). This blade tip treatment is composed of a unique combination of abrasive compounds that result in improved resistance to thermal degradation while retaining desirable initial cutting capacity.